Labor Day weekend is over and summer is a distant memory in our rearview mirrors. As I visit our schools in Nevada County I’m greatly thankful for the dedication and professionalism of our school site staff members. You all truly make an incredibly positive difference in your students’ lives. I’m also seeing and hearing that we are up in student enrollment in our county. My hope is that we have turned the corner in declining enrollment and will see continued growth in our schools.

My office is currently fine-tuning our countywide Professional Development Day for September 23rd titled, “Cultivate Resilience”. The educational services staff has put together an impactful day on helping educators become more aware about how ACEs (Adverse Childhood Experiences) impact teaching and learning. Attendees will learn how to incorporate instructional strategies to build resilience, promote growth mindset, and develop social-emotional skills in our students. We all know that very little learning will occur without these foundations in place.

I wish all of you a very successful academic year.

Scott W. Lay
Each summer, Sierra Nevada Memorial Hospital Dignity Health, Nevada County Superintendent of Schools, and Sierra College sponsor a program to give students entering grades 9-12 an opportunity to contemplate a career in the health care field.

This year’s annual 4-day “Exploring Careers in Health Summer Institute” program occurred the week of June 17th, 2019 at Sierra Nevada Memorial Dignity Health Hospital.

The 25 high school students who attended this free program learned about a wide range of careers in the medical field. “They get to do a lot, including hands-on activities and receive CPR/First Aid Certification,” says Sharyn Turner, NCSOS Coordinator of School Health. “It’s a great way to be exposed to multiple career options in the Health Services field.”

Having direct exposure to health care professionals and being given the opportunity to observe them in their work environment assists students in setting up his/her vocational goal. Each year’s program is a little different. The course agenda is adjusted in response to the student questionnaire that lists the occupations they are most interested in.

One day was spent at Sierra College, Rocklin at the Allied Health Center and nursing clinical lab spending time with students with various career goals, such as certified nursing assistants, nutritionists and registered nurses. The students also spent time at lunch with various representatives and specialties in nursing and medicine.

The highlight of the week was the arrival of a CALSTAR air ambulance on the roof of Sierra Nevada Memorial Dignity Health Hospital. Students were thrilled to learn about being a paramedic, pilot, and flight nurse, with photos of them sitting in a helicopter, which circulated all over social media.

There are three PARTNERS Family Resource Centers located in Western Nevada County. Each resource center welcomes families of all ages. We offer playgroups, fun kid activities, tutoring, and have clothes closets and computers to use. We are there for your family for fun and support, through thick or thin, rain or shine. We offer caring and confidential support when parenting and family life are challenging.

We know that family life has plenty of ups and downs and are available to help you find solutions to match your family’s needs and values. Whether it is a visit to our clothes closet, a need to send an important fax, or if your child has a challenge that tests your limits, we are there for you. We can help you navigate referrals and learn about the many services in our community.

PARTNERS Family Resource Centers have been in our community since 2010 and are located in Penn Valley at Ready Springs School, Grass Valley next to Grass Valley Charter School, and San Juan Ridge on the Oak Tree School campus.

All centers have a clothes closet, lending library, playgroups or story times, parenting support, and housing support through CalWorks. The Ridge and the Penn Valley centers host summer activities or camps, and the San Juan Ridge Family Resource Center has laundry facilities and food resources. Grass Valley offers tutoring.

All sites have computers and printers for your use.

Support is available in Spanish through the Grass Valley site; the other centers can help make those introductions.

We can always use your help! Become a tutor, ESL educator, or help with our clothes closets. Donations to purchase supplies or to fund our camps are always appreciated.

To learn more, to volunteer, or donate, visit partnersfamilyresourcecenters.org for a link to the different FRC sites; or contact Laura Harter, Coordinator at NCSOS 530-478-6400 x2028.

Trauma Informed Practices

Parts I & II

Join us in learning to promote academic achievement and social & emotional success for students who have experienced toxic stress and trauma.

Part I - choose one: October 3rd or 4th, 9:00am - 3:00pm
Part II - choose one: February 27th or 28th, 9:00am - 3:00pm

Location: NCSOS - 380 Crown Pt. Circle Grass Valley, CA

Trauma Informed Practices are the link to academic achievement and social/emotional success for students who’ve experienced toxic stress and trauma. Due to repeated triggering of the fight or flight system, the neurology of these students is different than their grade level counterparts, and taking in new knowledge can often be challenging. Navigating social/emotional situations can also be difficult. Trauma Informed Practices help teachers and students to be better regulated, which decreases behavior issues, and prepares the brain for learning.

To Register, contact Melissa Balderston: mbalderston@nevco.org or call 530-478-6400 ext 2020

Workshop Topics

Brain Breaks
Short movements for students to bring calm to the mind and oxygen to the brain, increasing blood flow and enhancing learning

Self Regulation
The importance of teachers being regulated and how to teach students the skills of self regulation

Creating a Safe Environment
Practical ideas for the school and classroom

Adverse Childhood Experiences Study [ACES]
Science that sets the template for how the developing brain is altered and why learning and social/emotional tasks are especially difficult for students of trauma

Teaching Children about their Minds and about Growth Mindset
Ideas and resources for teaching children about how their minds work

The Science of the Brain
Research and science about how the mind works, and how it relates to our students and their behavior in the classroom

Learning Targets
Reveal to students where they will go in the lesson and what they will be expected to learn, providing predictability helping to calm students

Classroom Applications
Classroom practices that work and how to apply them
Teacher Induction—The North Coast Teacher Induction Program BTSA /CTIP
Susan Clarabut, Instructor

Working weekly with their mentors over the course of two years, teachers take a deep dive into California’s 6 standards for the teaching profession to examine and reflect upon their own teaching practices. Teachers determine what their area for growth is and along with their mentors, what personalized professional development they will use to improve their teaching. Areas for professional development often include topics such as classroom management and set-up, social media, Universal Design for Learning (UDL), behavioral supports, best practices for teaching special populations and EL students, trauma based instruction, assumptions and equity, diversity, and teacher ethics. Most importantly, teachers have a mentor who is there to support, reassure and celebrate with them.

Mentors meet five times in the year at NCSOS, from 4:30-6:30 to take their own deep dive into best practices in mentoring.

Requirements for participation in the program include having a preliminary teaching credential and being employed as a teacher.

Additional information on induction can be found on the North Coast School of Education site www.ncsoe.org

Richard C. Davis Scholarship Program

2019 Richard C. Davis Scholarships

The Delta Sierra Executive Board was pleased to honor two outstanding graduates and one returning recipient who were recognized for their resiliency to overcome personal obstacles to graduate from high school and continue their education.

Through learning, these students have been able to accomplish what they never thought they would be able to do. We will continue to value our students and support them in all ways possible to ensure each and every student’s success through learning.

Information on the 2020 scholarship program will be posted on the CASCWA website during the 2019-20 school year. If you work with, or are aware of, a student who has overcome adversity and is now on a path to go forward with his/her education, please submit a scholarship application to the Delta Sierra Scholarship Committee for consideration.

NCSOS Arts Coordinator, Kimberly Ewing

NCSOS is happy to introduce our new Arts Coordinator, Kimberly Ewing. A classroom teacher by day, Kim enjoys a well rounded performing arts career in local theater, dance, and improvisational comedy. She is also a broadcaster on the local radio station KVMR and co-hosts a bi-monthly educational talk show called Educationally Speaking with Superintendent Scott W. Lay. Kim has written a memoir of her solo travels abroad and is now dabbling in podcasting and digital media arts for local non-profit organizations like Bear Yuba Land Trust. Kim is currently an active member of the Nevada County Arts Council’s Education Committee. Welcome, Kim!

Please share your newsworthy arts info with Kim: kewing@nevco.org

10 Important Things to Know About Arts Education in California

For the past thirty years, arts education in California’s schools has been disappearing at an alarming rate. Only 11% of the public schools are meeting state goals for arts instruction. The state’s recent fiscal crisis has resulted in still more dramatic cuts to visual and performing arts education programs.

InConcert Sierra:
grades 3 & up

Annual Third-grade Education Concerts: InConcert Sierra (ICS) presents educational programs yearly to Nevada County's youth through visiting concert artists. The annual springtime educational kids concerts are for third-grade students countywide. If you are interested in helping by volunteering or supporting our educational and scholarship programs, please contact the InConcert Sierra office at 530-273-3990 or info@inconcertsierra.org

Composers Project with Mark Vance: This is a comprehensive school-year long course to learn about and enjoy hands-on experience composing your own works and having them performed by professional musicians. In addition, you will meet influential people who may be instrumental in your pursuit of your musical goals and igniting your passion, while attending concerts with a new ear and meeting the musicians – understanding their perspective. An experience of a lifetime!

Scholarship/grant programs: Our Music Matters Grant Program is going strong. Grants of up to $750 may be awarded to Nevada County music students (Nevada County residents), ages 10-22, who submit an application and successfully pass a selection process.

Nevada Joint Union High School District Scholarship InConcert Sierra is proud to be part of the annual NJUHSD Outgoing Seniors Scholarship Program. The scholarships are awarded in June of each season and presented at the NJUHSD scholarship award ceremonies.

Instrument Loan & Grant Program — ICS accepts donations of quality musical instruments that can be loaned or gifted to deserving young musicians. We currently are working on locating new homes for several instruments.

Adult Programs:

Adult Education Seminars — The adult seminars are similar to our house concerts, providing an hour-long in-depth and informative presentation about varied topics relating to classical music, followed by great conversation and refreshments. Past seminars have featured informative classes on conducting, movie music, and a variety of instruments such as the harp, piano, and reed instruments.

POETRY OUT LOUD

ABOUT THE COMPETITION

The National Endowment for the Arts and the Poetry Foundation have partnered with the California Arts Council to support 2020 Poetry Out Loud, a FREE high school program which encourages the nation’s youth to learn about great poetry through memorization and recitation. This dynamic program helps high school students master public speaking skills, build self-confidence, learn about their literary heritage, and compete for more than $100,000 in awards.

HOW TO GET MY STUDENTS INVOLVED

In order to compete, schools must register through the state contact listed below. All materials and resources will be provided. Competitions will begin in fall 2019 at the school or classroom level to identify one student winner to represent their school at the regional or state finals. The state finals competition will be held on March 15 & 16, 2020, to determine the state winner representing California at the National Finals in Washington, DC.

Each winner at the state level will receive:
- A $200 cash prize and an all-expense-paid trip to Washington, DC
- A $500 cash stipend for their school to purchase poetry materials
- An opportunity to compete at the 2020 National Finals for the title of National Champion and a $20,000 prize

Interested schools, teachers, students, or parents should contact their Poetry Out Loud county partner for questions on how to participate. Additional questions can be directed to: Josy Miller, Arts Education Program Specialist, josy.miller@arts.ca.gov (916) 322-6385 or visit capoetryoutloud.org & poetryoutloud.org

United Way of Nevada County is in the planning stages of the Grass Valley Free 2-day Health Care Clinic which will take place on Jan. 11th and 12th of 2020. Organized in conjunction with the Roseville-based nonprofit California CareForce, United Way of Nevada County will be hosting the event, which will take place at the Nevada County Fairgrounds for the first time. The cost of such a huge event is quite substantial, however, through the kindness of people like Una Kobrin, who recently contacted United Way to share her story, it will all come together.

United Way is still in need of donors (sponsors) to help with everything needed to make the clinic happen. Also needed are general volunteers and medical professionals to volunteer their time during the 2020 clinic. There is also a need for volunteers to help set up and tear down two days before, and on Monday after the clinic. Anyone interested in volunteering during the two-day clinic, or donating to help bring it to fruition, is encouraged to call United Way at 530-274-8111, email admin@uwnc.org or visit http://www.uwnc.org.
